Collaborative Teaching Partnerships Independent Course

The Florida Inclusion Network (FIN) is pleased to announce the development of a new independent course, Collaborative Teaching Partnerships. This 15-hour course is offered on the Bureau of Exceptional Education and Student Services Portal to Professional Development Alternatives (BEESS-PDA). The course was developed to provide professional development to general and special education teachers working together in partnership to provide services and supports to students with disabilities in inclusive settings. Participation in this course requires a collaborative teaching partner for completion of activities, and successful completion will satisfy requirements of section 1003.03, Florida Statutes (F.S.), regarding training in team-teaching methods.
